A Big Spike

FOUR TIERS OF EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

TIER 1 ACTIVITIES

These are the types of activities that very few students can accomplish, like winning the national Mock Trial competition, gaining admission to a prestigious summer program, or being the #3 tennis player in the state.

TIER 2 ACTIVITIES

These are the impressive extracurricular accomplishments that you've done, like being class president, leading a fundraising effort that made $10,000, or making the all-state orchestra. These are the accomplishments that show dedication and leadership.

TIER 3 ACTIVITIES

Tier 3 activities are any extracurriculars where you held some sort of honor or leadership position. Examples include placing at a Debate Tournament, being the Treasurer of a school club, or being a varsity athlete. These are definitely accomplishments worth showcasing; however, they are still pretty common among college applicants.

TIER 4 ACTIVITIES

These are the extracurriculars where you were a participating member, and didn't hold a leadership position. For example, playing in the school orchestra, volunteering at an animal shelter, or joining Spanish Club is a Tier 4 activity. You should absolutely include these in your college application as they showcase your interests to an admissions committee, but they won't be the most impressive part of your application.

A QUICK TEST

"I've always wanted to be a _____"

"I spend twenty hours per week on _____"

"I already receive a lot of attention for my talent in _____".
